DATA PEDIGREE

Data taken from MARVEL Tōkon: Fighting Souls ranked ladder. Teams are gathered every day, manually, at various intervals. All data you see is from real teams that showed up on the ladder over this time period. This is not a completely inclusive list and this data is just a snapshot of 6,655 teams as of 18 August 2026.

Overall

Every playable character, ranked by how often they are picked. The bar behind each name is that character's own split across the four slots. Drawn from 6,655 teams.

the mark is 1.00 – even chance

Lift compares how often a combination appears against how often it would appear if people picked independently. Above 1.00 means players are putting them together on purpose — it is not a claim that the combination is strong. Combinations seen fewer than 67 times are left out, because a ratio built on a handful of picks moves on chance alone. Only 4 of 74 trios clear 1.00, against 31 of 162 duos: a team has four slots, so three popular characters crowd each other more than independence predicts.
